Wallace-Rohn Rites Are in Corunna

Maxine Rohn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Rohn of Corneli Street, and Robert D. Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wallace of Owosso Avenue, were married Saturday afternoon in the First Methodist Church of Corunna.

The Rev. John Bunce officiated at the ceremony, solemnized before an altar framed with white gladioli and yellow pom poms.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of satin organza appliqued with lace. A portrait neckline, edged with the lace, and long sleeves accented the fitted bodice of her gown which dipped to a full skirt. More lace edged the wattleu train attached at her shoulders by bows.

Her triple tiered bouffant veil of imported illusion was secured by a velvet cabbage rose. She carried a cascade of white rosettes and ivy.

Attending the bride were her sister, Mrs. Duane Warner, as matron of honor, and Denise Wallace of Detroit and Mrs. Kenneth Kirby as bridesmaids.

Mrs. Warner wore an emerald green velvet, sleeveless gown that was fitted at the waist from which extended a train of emerald green chiffon. She carried one long stemmed yellow rose.

Wearing duplicates of her gown but in a shade of mint green, were the bridesmaids. They too carried one long stemmed yellow rose.

The bridegroom invited Marvin Mitchell to attend him as best man. Phillip Sanderson of Corunna and Kenneth Kirby were groomsmen. Escorting guests to their seats were ushers Robert Steeman and Robert Sprague.

Mrs. Rohn witnessed her daughter's wedding wearing a light blue and green brocade sheath. Mrs. Wallace chose to wear a royal blue light wool sheath. Both mothers were presented with a corsage of yellow rosettes.

A reception in the church parlors for the 250 wedding guests immediately followed the wedding ceremony.

The new Mrs. Wallace is a service representative at General Telephone Co. Her husband is a student at Lansing Community College.

They plan to be at home at 1014 Beehler St. after Feb. 1.

5-8-1965

The Upper Peninsula was the destination of the new Mr. and Mrs. Howard Warren Jr. who were married Saturday in St. Paul Episcopal Church in Corunna. The Rev. Paul Downie officiated.

A gown of white organza was selected by the bride for herself, and gowns of aqua peau de soie for her attendants. Serving as matron of honor was Mrs. Charlene Wright, with Mary Jean Serviss as bridesmaid.

The bride's gown was fashioned with a full pleated skirt with a front panel on which were embroidered roses and rose buds. This was topped by the fitted bodice which featured a round neckline and long, buttoned sleeves, corded at the waistline.

Her veil was secured by a pill box encircled with flower buds.

The gowns of the bride's attendants also featured the pleated skirts and were accented with embossed, waist length jackets. Net hats with a self-rose complemented their ensembles.

Patrick Kitts was best man. Serving as groomsmen was Dale Baker with James Grano and James Spencer as ushers.

Mrs. Serviss witnessed the wedding wearing a pale yellow suit, while Mrs. Baker chose to wear a pale blue suit. Both mothers were presented with flowers to accent their choice.

WILLIAMSBURG - Christine Louise Smith Zoglman, 69, of Williamsburg, Virginia died on March 7, 2014. Chris, who will not be called Christine again, was born in Corunna, Michigan on October 17, 1944, and lived an idyllic life with Leo and Louise Smith playing flute and marching in the Corunna High School Cavalier band. She majored in business education at Central Michigan University where she was active in the sorority Alpha Chi Omega. Her business degree led her to share her typing and shorthand skills with others as a business teacher in Essexville, Michigan. On a weekend trip in May 1966 with friends, she met the man who would be her life-long partner, First Lieutenant Robert Zoglman. Their love grew quickly and on September 28, 1966, Chris and Bob married. They moved whenever and wherever the Army ordered them to do so. They welcomed Carrie Royce while Bob was finishing his degree, also at Central Michigan University. Chris embraced her role as a military wife and put her career as a teacher on hold to support the family in their many moves. The Army recognized her with the Molly Pitcher Award for her service. Chris always become active in her community no matter the zip code or the country. She has participated in homeowner's associations, book clubs, and PTAs. She worked in many school offices and libraries, folded altar linens and arranged altar flowers, and taught homebound high school students. Her hands were never idle, either. Her creative talent was not limited to her music. She has painted many pictures that hang in her home as well as the home of her daughter. She has created myriad needlepoint projects, quilts, stained glass, and decoupage to commemorate Bob's Army appointments, vacation memories, holidays, and to welcome new family and friends. She even created the mats and frames for many of these creations. In 1992, when her family transitioned to their new lives as civilians in Northern Virginia, Chris returned again to the business community. This time she was the office manager embracing the much advanced technology since she had last been in the business sector. Shorthand was no longer required, but when one can type with her speed, it simply didn't matter. In 2009, Bob and Chris finally settled into their forever home in Ford's Colony, Williamsburg, Virginia. It is the house of their dreams with room to entertain and kitchen to make every recipe ripped out of magazines or drooled over on the Food Network. Chris and Bob even thought of visitors given their ideal location. There is plenty of room to host overnight guests, including their daughter and her family. She was very active in their church, Hickory Neck, as an usher and member of the prayer shawl guild. Her husband, Bob Zoglman, daughter Carrie Bartlett, son-in-law Dave Bartlett, and grandchildren Spencer and Alexandra Bartlett will miss her greatly but are grateful that she will be welcomed to heaven by her mother and father Leo and Louise Smith. You are invited to join in a Celebration of Life Service to be held at Hickory Neck Church on March 17, 2014 at 1:30pm. Donations may be made to the Hickory Neck Church Foundation (8300 Richmond Rd., Toano, VA 23168). Interment will follow at Arlington National Cemetery at a later date.

Connie Stebleton Is Wed on Her Birthday

CORUNNA — Saturday had double significance for Connie Lee Stebleton, for it not only marked her birthday anniversary, but her wedding date.

In a candlelight evening service Connie became the bride of Lynn E. Willard in the First Methodist Church. The double ring rites were solemnized by the Rev. Rex M. Dixon who was assisted by the Rev. Herman Whiting of Roseville, a former pastor here.

The parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Don Stebleton, 203 West State St., Corunna and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Willard, 1411 Olmstead St., Owosso.

They and 400 guests witnessed the couple's exchange of vows before an altar embankment of white mums and gladioli.

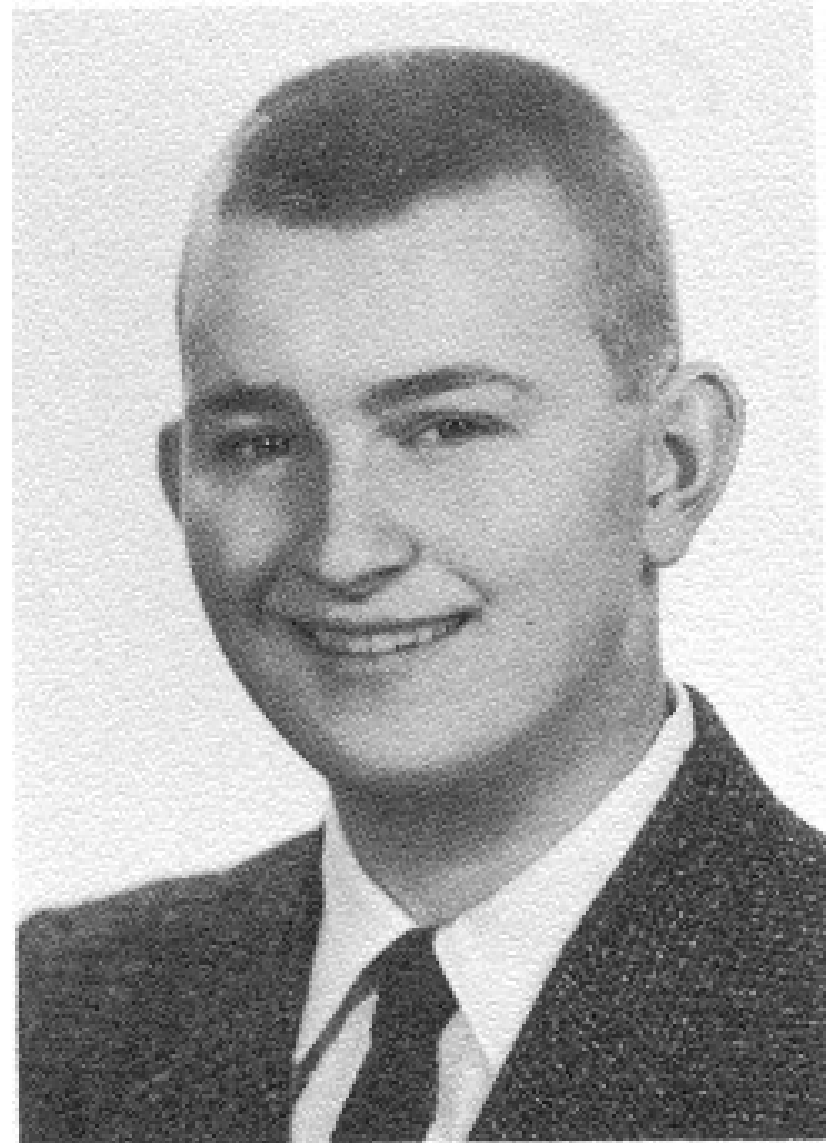

Given in marriage by her father the bride approached the altar wearing a peau de soi gown made on simple lines with a bell skirt, and featuring a detachable train, bowed at the back waist line. The long sleeves of the round-necked bodice were outlined with tiny buttons and ended in points over the hands.

John Francis Sternaman, age 76 of Owosso passed away on Friday, November 22, 2019 surrounded by his loving family at the Shiawassee County Hospice House.

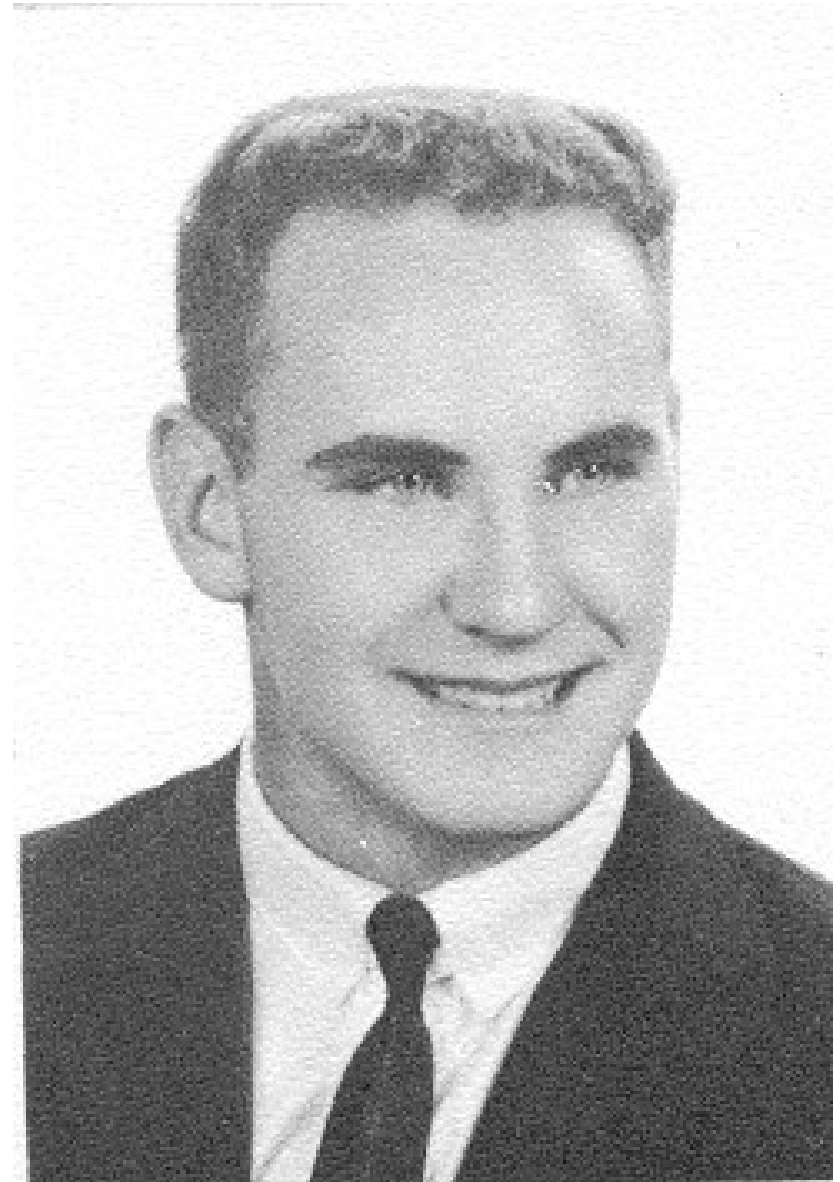

John was born on February 1, 1943 to Walter L. and Anna R. (McMullen) Sternaman in Owosso, MI. He grew up in the Owosso area and attended Corunna High School, graduating with the class of 1962. John served his country proudly in the U.S. Army from 1964 to 1967 where most of his service time was spent in Greenland. On May 10, 1969, John married Ellen Kay Loynes at St. Paul Catholic Church in Owosso and remained an active member of St. Paul Church until recent years when his health began to fade. John loved woodworking, bowling, coaching little league baseball, and spending time at the Crystal Lake cottage with family whenever possible. He was also involved with Indian Guides with his sons and little league basketball through the YMCA. He was very involved with his sons when they were growing up; coaching, watching them play sports, and camping with them. He was a husband, dad, grandpa, uncle, coach, and friend who was loved by so many and impacted lives throughout the Owosso area. He retired from General Motors/Buick division in 1996 after 34 years where he worked as a plant metallurgist and was a member of UAW 599. In later years, he especially enjoyed spending time with his grandchildren and loving them. He sacrificed so much for his family and although they will miss him greatly, they know they will see him again on streets of gold some day.

John is survived by his wife, Ellen; sons, John R., Brian (Heather) and Jeff (Renee) Sternaman; grandchildren, Grace, Anna, Nathan, Joshua, Isaiah, and Landon; sister-in-law, Barbara Sternaman and numerous nieces, nephews, cousins and friends.

Little-Tobey Vows Solemnized <sup>9/23/69</sup>

BANCROFT — A reception in the church parlors immediately followed the wedding ceremony Saturday afternoon uniting Donna E. Tobey and Brent D. Little in marriage in the Bancroft United Methodist Church.

The Rev. Lawrence Brooks heard the vows spoken by the daughter of Mrs. Elstin Tobey of Bancroft and the late Mr. Tobey and the son of Mrs. Frank Otten of Dearborn and Bernard Little of Montrose.

Frank Scribner escorted his granddaughter to the yellow and white bouquet flanked altar.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of chantilly lace and silk organza over bridal taffeta. The gown was fashioned in empire style with a high victorian collar and puffed long sleeves. Chantilly lace formed the ring collar and detailed the front of the A-line skirt. Her matching train veil widely framed in chantilly lace fell to a chapel length and she carried a cascade bouquet of white spider mums and yellow sweetheart roses.

Linda Shipman of Lansing attended as maid of honor and Peggy Crandell of Flint was the bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns of willow green karate cut in empire lines, with rolled ring collars and above-elbow sleeves. Matching venise lace formed the collar, bordered the high rise waistline and detailed the floor length panel train.

The two attendants wore matching willow green circle headpieces to secure their short veils and each carried a cascade bouquet of yellow spider mums.

Joseph Perina of Durand joined the bridegroom at the altar as best man and Max Elkins of Corunna was the groomsman. Robert Parkinson, cousin of the bride, and Reg Brewer seated the guests.

The new Mrs. Little attended Eastern Michigan University and is employed by Oldsmobile in Lansing. Her husband attended Flint Community Junior College and is employed by Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. in Flint.
